

Art Industry News: Art Basel's Marc Spiegler Promises 'the Future of the Art World Is Not Digital' on the Eve of His Latest Online Fair + Other Stories

June 16, 2020

Almine Rech Takes on Kenny Scharf – Almine Rech now represents the American painter and street artist, who came to prominence painting brightly colored amorphous figures on the streets of the East Village in the 1980s. The gallery will open Scharf's inaugural solo exhibition in New York on September 10.