We Paint!

Mar 24 — Apr 24, 2022 | Beaux-Arts de Paris

Curated by Cristiano Raimondi

WE PAINT! is an exhibition on the effervescence of painting in contemporary art that will take place from March 24 to April 24, 2022 at the Palais des Études des Beaux-Arts in Paris under the independent curatorship of Cristiano Raimondi, who will also be responsible for the scenography.

This exhibition programmed by the Beaux-Arts de Paris presents this state of contemporary painting through 33 French and foreign artists selected over the last 10 years by the Jean-François Prat Prize, in a scenography specifically created for this occasion in the heart of the emblematic glass courtyard of the École des Beaux-Arts de Paris.

WE PAINT! is a contribution to the subject of painting, like the recent exhibitions Stop Painting! at the Fondazione Prada (Venice) or Mixing it Up: painting now, at the Hayward Gallery in London, in 2021.

The exhibition WE PAINT! has received the support of the Bredin Prat Endowment Fund for Contemporary Art.
